DISCOVER OCB AND CANADIAN CHEESE,

A PERFECT MATCH!

Here are some tips on how to enjoy them together:

Delicate Beers* & young, fresh cheese:

Delicate beers provide a great match for fresh cheeses, like Mozzarella and Ricotta. The understated, fresh flavours of these beers will help highlight subtle aromas and flavours in the cheese, while carbonation provides a lovely contrast in texture.

Malty Beers* & nutty/aged cheese:

Malty beers fare well with younger semi-firm cheeses, like Swiss and young Gouda. The earthy toasted notes in these beers will tie in nicely with the nutty aromas and flavours of the cheese, resulting in a seamless mellow flavour combination.

Highly Hopped/Bitter Beer* & tart/sharp cheese:

Hoppy beers are a classic pairing for sharper, tart cheeses like medium Cheddars. Another fun pairing for Hoppy beers is herbed cheese. Because hops too are herbs, the herbal notes in these cheeses will parallel the hop aroma and flavour in the beer.

Strong Beer* & strong cheese (e.g. Blue Cheese):

Strong beers pair well with bold-flavoured cheeses, like Blue cheese and aged Cheddars. The alcohol note in these beers will meld with the sharper notes in the cheese, allowing some of the underlying sweet or buttery notes to shine through.

Rich Malty Ales* & older/hard cheese (especially those with pronounced nutty and/or complex flavours):

Rich malty ales are a great pairing for sweeter cheeses, like aged Gouda and maple flavoured cheese. This decadent combination will bring out sweeter caramel tones in both the beer and the cheese and can be a tasty after-dinner treat.

The possibilities are endless. Have some fun, experiment, and find your own cheese and beer combinations.

Margaret Peters, Glengarry Fine Cheese - holding award winning Lankaaster Cheese
